

“High Performance Leadership: From Concepts to Action”

Talent Management Inner Circle Event

29 May 2014 (Thursday),
2.00 pm – 5.30 pm

WANGZ Business Centre,
Suntec City

To succeed in today’s highly ambiguous, uncertain, and changing environment, organizations must develop a cadre of leaders who can lead and drive organizational performance. Leaders need to create an environment that fosters high performance for sustainable results, and this can only be done with exemplary leadership and people management skills.

This event provides an overview of the critical aspects of the best performance leadership practices used in organizations today. This is a valuable resource for business leaders and managers, HR practitioners and anyone involved in developing leadership talent.

In this event, you won’t be just sitting all day listening to people talk. You will get the opportunity to:

1. Discover new trends in leadership development
2. Experience practical and effective leadership approach
3. Learn strategies and insights from other business leaders
4. Network with other HR and L&D practitioners
