

“Change Management: Discovering strategies that make change stick”

Talent Management Inner Circle Event

18 Sept 2014 (Thursday)
2.30 pm – 5.30 pm

National Library @ Bugis

In the context of today’s highly competitive and volatile business environment, an organization’s capacity to change and manage change becomes a critical differentiating factor that ensures its continued development and success. Beyond managing change, it is essential that change agents carefully plan, facilitate and lead change so as to minimize resistance and disruption, as well as to enhance performance sustainably.

Hence, developing effective leadership in change management is fundamental in improving organizations’ agility towards change and in empowering organizations to change faster, smarter and more efficiently.

This event would enable you to gain practical insights to:

1. Understand process of implementing change in an organization
2. Explore the different facets of effective change management
3. Learn practical approaches to successfully lead and manage change
4. Learn strategies and insights from other business leaders
5. Network with other HR and L&D practitioners

We welcome all HR practitioners and change agents who are involved in the change process of their organization!
